Class Officers

Nancy Lundstrom, Treasurer; Claudette Anger, President; William McMahon, Class Captain; Richard Murray, Vice President; Carol Vegnone, Secretary.

Student Council

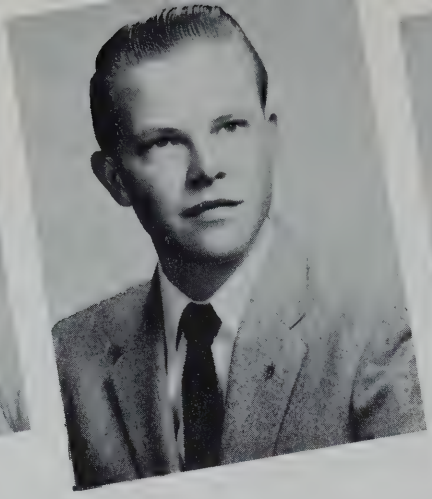
CAROLYN MARGARET ALIX
"Heaven itself would stoop to her." A delicate, delightful miss is Carolyn. She has been a sincere and understanding friend to many - always smiling and ready to lend a helping hand, especially if art work is required.
REFLECTOR Staff 1,2,3,4; Band 2,3, Head Twirler 4; Glee Club 1,2; Prom Committee 3,4; AFTERMATH Staff; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Class Day Speaker.



DAVID CARL ANDERSON
"Lucky is the lad who can always look on the bright side of life." Dave is another of our merry group of fellows, usually found joking and having a good time in the halls. No one could resist his dry humor and teasing comments.
Band 1,2,3,4; Science Fair 4.

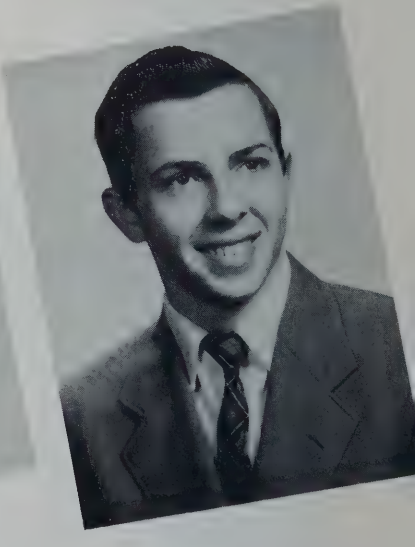
CLAUDETTE MARIE ANGER
"Her air, her manner, all who saw admired." With a junior sophisticate look all her own, "Cookie," our class president, stands out in every crowd and what's more important, she always maintains her modest and amiable nature that attracts friends galore.
Class President 1,2,3,4; Student Council 1,2, Secretary 3, Vice President 4; Glee Club 1,2,3; Library Staff 1,2; Prom Committee 4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Senior Honor Student; Graduation Speaker; Class Day Speaker.

KENNETH LAWRENCE ARMY
"Well timed silence hath more eloquence than speech." Ken is a working man of our class. He doesn't have much to say, but when he does, it is worth listening to. He can usually be found at his place of employment, the Millbury A&P.
Washington Club 1,2,3.

RAYMOND PAUL BARONI
"A good fellow, a clean sport." Although quiet, Ray is one of the best dressed and most athletic boys in our class. He will be remembered for his work on the basketball and baseball teams.
Baseball 1,2,3,4; Basketball 1, 2,3,4.

RAYMOND BIANCHI
"Brevity is the soul of wit." If this old adage be so, then Ray must be one of the wittiest persons ever born. However, we haven't had much chance to find out, as he seldom makes a sound.

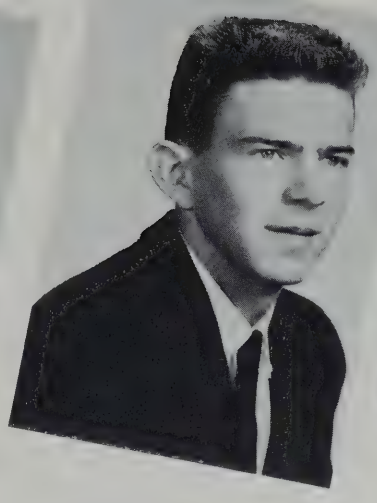
SHARON BORDASH
"Happy am I, from care I'm free, Why aren't they all content like me?"
She is one of our few tall girls. Graceful, neat, whimsical - this fits Sharon to a "T". Her many inquisitive expressions and puzzled questions during class have always amused us.
Basketball 3,4; Office Staff 4.



JUDE MARCEL BOUDREAU
"Laugh and the world laughs with you." "Marc" joined us early in our senior year. He is usually happy and enjoys a good time. He is a welcome addition to any group.
Science Fair 4.

DONALD RUSSELL BRADY

"I hasten to laugh at everything; I shall laugh myself to death." Don's belief is that you should squeeze a little fun into every day. If you're not capable of doing this, he is always at hand to help you along. A gay smile and a keen wit best describe him.



ALBERT EUGENE BREAULT, Jr.

"Strong and content, I travel the open road." Al may be outwardly quiet, but when given a chance, he is just the opposite. Although he is undecided about his future plans, we wish him success.

PAULINE CAPUANO

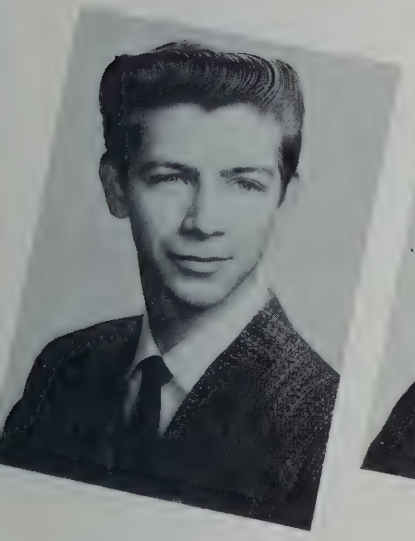
"I hate nobody; I am in charity with the world." Pauline is one of the quieter girls of our class. A senior willing to help out at the prom, she is a pleasant worker and has a friendly smile that will help her win many friends.

Library Staff 2; Prom Committee 4.

LINDA HELEN CARLSON

"I agree with no man's opinion, I have some of my own." Linda is a friendly girl with a winning way about her. She enjoys tickling the ivories and playing field hockey.

Glee Club 1,3; Dramatic Club 4; Office Staff 3; Prom Committee 3; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Field Hockey 2,3, Co-captain 4; Organist 3; Senior Honor Group; Class Day Speaker; Class Song Committee.



DAVID WILFRED COFSKE

"Boys will be boys." Dave may seem quiet in class, but with the boys, anything goes. He plans to enter the Air Force upon graduation. We wish him success in his ambition to become an officer.

PAULINE FRANCES COMBS

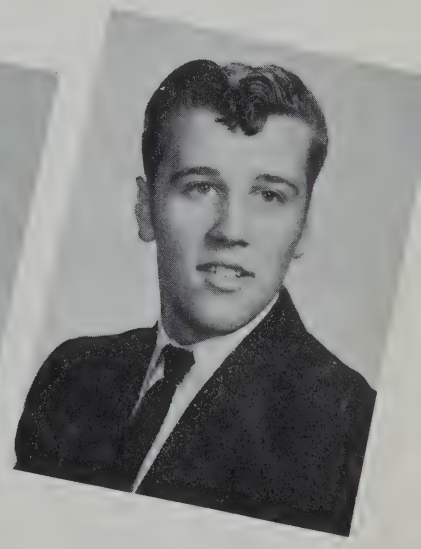
"A companion that is cheerful is worth gold." Pauline has many friends who enjoy her laughter and company. Judging from her work in the Glee Club and Talent Group, we are sure she will succeed in all she undertakes.

Glee Club 1,2,3; Talent Group 2, 3; Cafeteria 3,4.

BARBARA ANN COMPTOIS

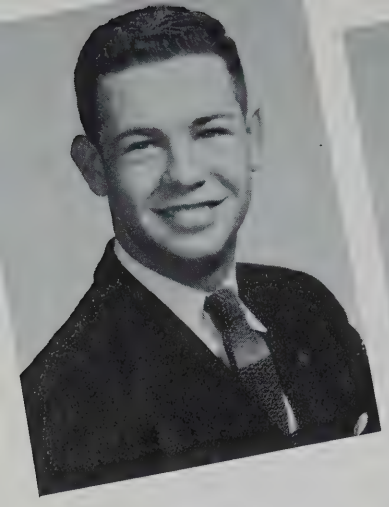
"Softly shall I tread as I go my way." Barbara, one of the quietest girls in the class, walks about the school with a minimum of talking and fooling. However, she is always willing to help others and has a friendly disposition.

Glee Club 1,2,3; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.



GEORGE DAVID CULLINA

"There's but a twinkling of a star between a man of peace and war." Dave's easy-going personality and fun-loving nature have granted him a distinguished spot among the boys. He keeps his girls on a merry-go-round.



STANLEY GEORGE DANDRO
"A lover of sports, a lover of fun." Stan is a true lover of sports; whether you want to run a race or kick a pigskin, he is right there with you. Stan, who joined the service after mid-years, is a merry fellow who seems to smile all the time.
Football 3,4; Track 3.

JOHN EDWARD DEETER, Jr.
"We're proud of you, you're a good sport through and through." John is a quiet boy, very much at home when tinkering with cars. He has taken much well-meant teasing with a cheerful grin, a quality very much to be admired.
Science Fair 4.

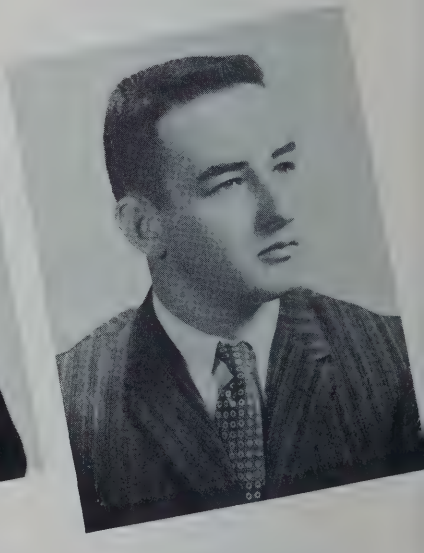
MAIDA DEMING
"A person with a smile is a person worth-while." We have often seen Maida working in the office during her free periods. One of the quieter girls, Maida is very co-operative and has a cheery smile.
Office Staff 3,4; Debating Club 3; Science Fair 4.

WILLIAM KEITH DOBIE
"There are three days in the week I do not worry about - yesterday, today, and tomorrow." Keith is one of those people lucky enough to be blessed with a carefree personality accompanied by ambition. His winning ways have already captured the "friendship" of a certain miss.
Science Club 3, Treasurer 4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Football 2.

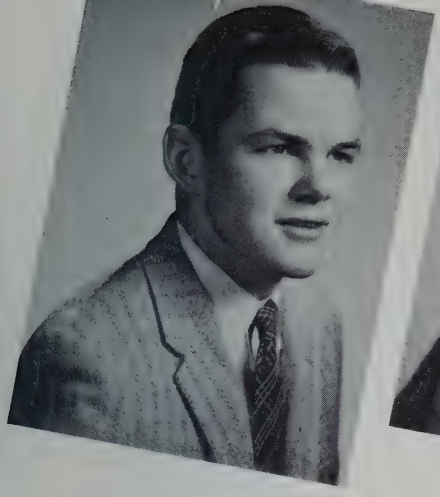
HENRY ALOYSIUS
DOWGIELEWICZ, Jr.
"Never do today what you can put off till tomorrow." Henry is one of our better math students. He hopes to enter Worcester Tech in the fall and we wish him the best of luck.
Science Club, Vice President 3, President 4; Washington Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Science Fair 2, 3, 4; Football 3,4; Track Manager 1; Pre-college Educational Program Representative.

SANDRA ANN DUFRESNE
"Life without mirth is a lamp without oil." Sandy will be best remembered for her ability to laugh and to make others laugh. Her wit and contagious humor are a welcome addition to any group.
REFLECTOR Staff 1, 2, 3, Business Manager 4; Glee Club 1,2; Debating Club, Secretary 3; Biology Club 2; Office Staff 1,2; Library Staff 3,4; Field Hockey 1,2,3; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

NORMAN CHARLES FAIRBANKS
"A friend received with thumps upon his back." Norm is the rare type of friend who will always lend a hand, and will stick by his buddies through thick and thin. Hypocrites would be obsolete if more were like him.



DONALD KENT FARON
"If I rest, I rust." "Duck" came to Millbury in our junior year, but he soon became known to his classmates as an amiable person. He likes to fish, hunt, play sports, and ski.
Science Fair 4.



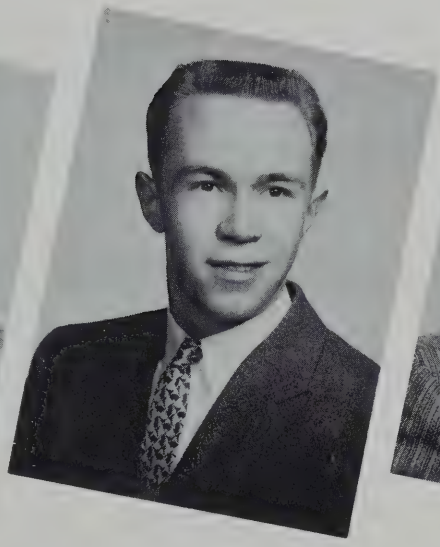
EDWARD LEONARD FARON
"They are rich who have true friends." Ed's undaunted competitive spirit has helped him in all his activities. His work on the football team is appreciated. We wish him success in his career in teaching, as he plans to enter State Teachers' College in the fall.
Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Science Fair 4; Baseball Assistant Manager 1; Football 3,4.

BETTY ALICE FORREST
"To be merry best becomes you." Betty usually has something funny to tell. She always has a cheery smile for everyone. Her sunny disposition and pleasing personality will always keep her well supplied with friends.
Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

BEVERLY ANN FOX
"Unthinking, idle, wild, and young, I have laugh'd and danc'd and talk'd and sung." Wherever there's fun, there's Bev. She is the only person we know who respects everyone's feelings always, and laughs away the teasing that comes her way.
REFLECTOR Staff 2, 3, 4; Debating Club 1; Office Staff 2; Senior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

LEA MADELEINE GONYA
"Wide awake and happy always." Bubbling over with vitality, always smiling, scurrying through the halls in a frenzy - that's Lea. Her exuberance and ability have made her a leader in almost all she undertakes. This tiny imp will remain always in the hearts of us all.
REFLECTOR Staff 1,2,3, Editor in chief 4; Band 2,3, President 4; Glee Club 1; Debating Club 1; Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3, Chairman; AFTERMATH Staff, Editor in chief; Photography Committee 4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Field Hockey 1; Senior Honor Student; Graduation Speaker.

RONALD HENRY GONYEA
"When one is contented, there is no more to be desired." Ron, a great asset to our football and basketball teams, is a quiet boy. When he has something to say, his frank and sincere manner demands everyone's attention.
Basketball 1,2,3,4; Football 1, 2,3, Captain 4; Track 3.

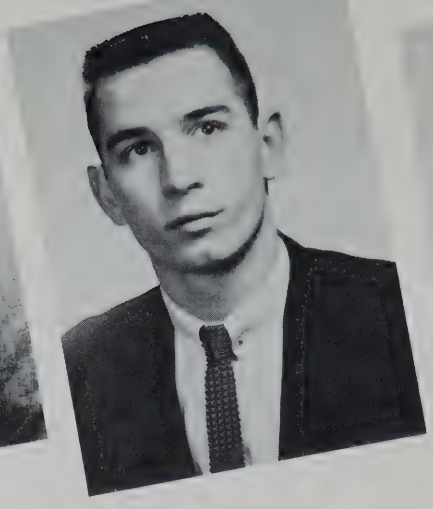


HAROLD LENNARD GRAHN
"Hang sorrow, care will kill a cat - so therefore let's be merry." What better quotation could be found for Harold? Always joking and mirthful, yet never loud or boastful - a rare combination. He is usually seen with Allan-both laughing heartily.
Track 1,2,3, Captain 4; Science Fair 4.

VINCENT JOHN GREGONIS
"For he's a jolly good fellow." Vinnie has the honor of being one of the tallest boys of the class. He obtains much pleasure from his car which he is often seen driving around the town.

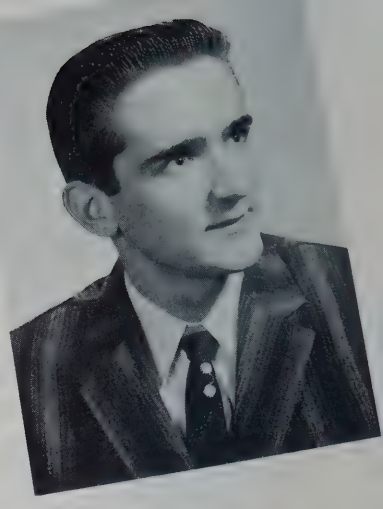
BEVERLY ANN HAMILTON
"A good friend never offends." Bev is a girl who has a laugh that can not be mistaken for any but her own. She enjoys jokes and playing on the intramural teams.
Glee Club 2,3; REFLECTOR Staff 4; Talent Group 3.

JAMES ALLAN HAYDEN
"He blushes - he's shy, but he's an all around guy." Al's glowing blush has been the delight of all. It takes only a word to turn Al's face a brilliant scarlet. Al has proven his courage in the brave defense of his "new" car.



RICHARD JOHN HOCHOWSKI
"When joy and duty clash, let duty go to smash." "Hutch's" ability in sports is carried over in his ability to have fun. A more carefree boy would be hard to find. His ironic wit and ever present humor have left a lasting impression on us all.
Basketball 1,3,4; Football 1,2,3, 4; Band 3; Track 1,2,3, Captain 4.

PHILIP ROBERT HODGMAN
"Variety is the spice of life." Phil is one of the class skiers. His work on the football team has been appreciated, and we wish him success in the future.
Baseball 1,2,3,4; Basketball 1; Football 2,4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Science Fair 4.



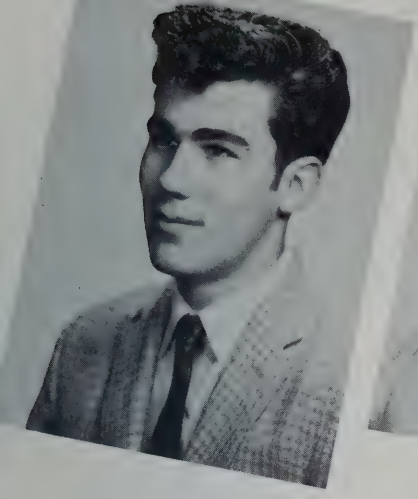
ROBERT STERNER HOKANSON
"Men of few words are the best men." "Hoky" doesn't say too much, but when he does speak he says something worthwhile. Unknown to most of us, "Hoky" is an avid roller-skater.

EDWARD AMOS HOWARD
"His cares are all now ended." Ted is another of our class mechanics. He likes to read hot rod books and to go to the drags. He was also a valuable member of Room 30's basketball team.
Band 1,2,3,4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Track 4.

BARBARA ANN HOWE
"Creation's heir, the world, the world, is mine." Barbara has not only caught the world, but the moon and stars as well. Few could equal her slender form and graceful manner. Her dreams won't all be lost in air, for with her enthusiasm and ambition, nothing can escape her.
Glee Club 1,2,3; Dramatic Club 3; Washington Club 3,4; Talent Group 3; Senior Honor Student; REFLECTOR Staff 3; Field Hockey 1,2,3,4; Class Song Committee.

JANE ELLEN JACKSON
"Silence is deep as eternity." Jane is small and seems quiet, but when she wants she can make herself seen and heard.
Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

RICHARD ALLAN JACOBSON
"None but himself can be his equal." "Jake" is one of the tallest boys in the class and is looked up to by all. His terrific sports ability has been shown by his playing on the baseball and basketball teams.
Ring Committee 2; Science Fair 4; Class Day Speaker; Baseball 1,3,4; Basketball 1,4.



DONALD JAMES JEZYK

"If your friends laugh at your jokes, you have either good jokes or good friends." Don apparently has good jokes and good friends, for when he joins them, the roar of laughter is tremendous. The twinkle in his eyes and the mischief in his smile draw admirers galore.

CAROLYN JOHNSON

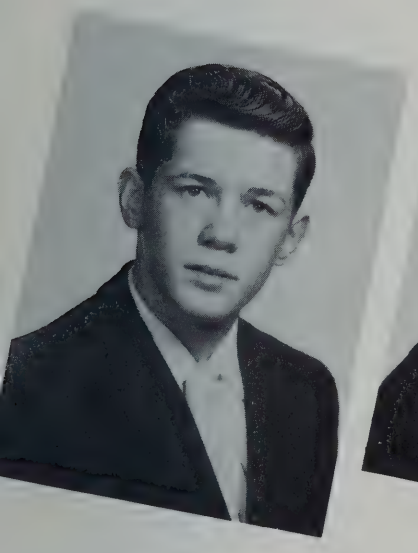
"There are two ways of spreading light: to be the candle or the mirror that reflects it." Carolyn is a girl who listens to everyone's problems and cheers him up. She may be seen most of the time in the commercial department. We're proud of her, as she is one of our Senior Honor Students. Senior Honor Student; Glee Club 1,2,3; Field Hockey 1,2,3, Co-captain 4; Softball 1; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

KENNETH ALPHONSE KING

"Wouldst thou know the artist? Then go seek him in his labors." Ken's perseverance and talent have displayed themselves in his marks and art work. His help on the prom committees was indispensable. What will the art room be like without Ken's beautiful pictures decorating the walls? REFLECTOR Staff 2,3,4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee.

JOY MERRIE KORTEKAMP

"If a woman has long hair, it is glory to her." Joy's beautiful reddish-gold hair has been the envy of many girls and the downfall of at least one boy. Her quick blush and bashful manner will be remembered by many of us as her trademark.
REFLECTOR Staff 3,4; Glee Club 1,2; Science Club, Secretary-Treasurer 3; Office Staff 2; Senior Prom Committee; Ring Committee; Basketball 2,3,4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.



LEO JOSEPH KRUMSIEK

"He's small, but he's wise; so beware all you guys." Although Joe is one of the shortest boys in our class, he hasn't let his height handicap him. Playing basketball and teasing girls are his favorite pastimes; and I might add, he does both with equal ability.

DOROTHY KUSY

"A winning way, a pleasing smile, dressed so neat and quite in style." Dot's gracious smile and attractive appearance have made her many friends here in school and at work in Filene's. She is industrious and willing to work.
Glee Club 1, Secretary 2, Treasurer 3; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

RITA LUCIENNE LACHANCE

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace." Rita's beautiful red hair is her mark of glory. She is one of those people you have to know in order to appreciate her beauty of character and her personality. We have never heard her utter an unkind word or hurt the feelings of another.
Glee Club 1,2; Basketball 2,3,4; Washington Club 1,2,3.

EDITH MABLE LACHAPELLE

"It is better to be small and shine then to be tall and cast a shadow." In spite of being small in stature, "Edie" has a friendly smile and vivacious nature. She is most often seen talking in the midst of a group of girls.
Senior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

MARY CHRISTINE LANGWAY
"Laughs she early, laughs she late, laughs she all the day." "Mare's" unusual laugh and flair for fashion have made her noticed and well liked by all wherever she goes. No one will deny that she certainly contributed a good portion of the mirth and fun of our high school days.
REFLECTOR Staff 4; Band 2,3; Junior Prom Committee 3; Senior Prom Committee 4; Basketball 2,3,4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Class Day Speaker.

JEAN ELIZABETH LEMANSKI
"Fair words never hurt the tongue." An observant girl is Jean. Her determination to do well and obtain what she wants is best exemplified by her membership in the Senior Honor Group. Her good-natured and helpful manner is sure to gain her success.
REFLECTOR Staff 4; Glee Club 1; Dramatic Club 1,2,3,4; Office Staff 2,3,4; Library Staff 2; Senior Honor Student; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Public Speaking 1.

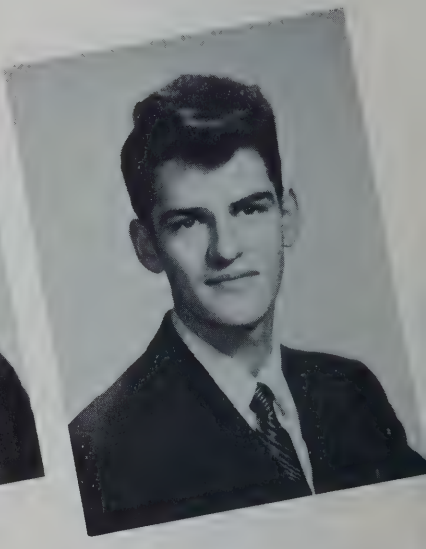
SARA ANN LILLEY
"Quiet is she as a rule, but oh! how different out of school." "Sally's" not as quiet as her voice leads you to believe. Her quick wit and wry humor have often made us wonder if it is really quiet "Sally" speaking.
REFLECTOR Staff 3, 4; Washington Club 1,2,3.

JANICE EVELYN LINDBERG
"Silence is the virtue of the wise." Janice is the type of girl who doesn't say very much, but when she does, everyone listens for it is very worthwhile.. She has a dry sense of humor that is known to few. With her unending patience and understanding she will make a fine teacher.
REFLECTOR Staff 3, Assistant Editor 4; AFTERMATH Staff, Associate Editor; Science Club 4; French Club 4; Dramatic Club 3, 4; Washington Club 1, 2, 3; Science Fair 4; Senior Honor Student.

RICHARD MICHAEL LOUZONIS
"If you can't have a little fun, what's the use of living?" "Rick" is not very big but dynamite comes in small packages. You can be sure there will never be a dull moment when he is around. He always has a humorous remark for any situation.

NANCY ELLEN LUNDSTROM
"Her good nature, like the sunshine, sheds happiness everywhere." By means of altruism and smiles, Nancy has stolen her way into the hearts of all. Her sincere and patient sympathy when we were troubled, her ability as a student and athlete, and her persistence in collecting class dues can never be forgotten.
Class Treasurer 2, 3, 4; REFLECTOR Staff 4; Science Club 4; Dramatic Club 1,2,3,4; Office Staff 4; AFTERMATH Staff, Assistant Editor; Science Fair 4; Public Speaking Club 1; Basketball 4; Field Hockey 1,2, 3,4; Softball 1,2,3, Co-captain 4; D. A. R. Representative; Senior Honor Student; Graduation Speaker.

CAROL JOYCE MADSEN
"A happy disposition is the gift of the gods." This picture is the first time we've ever seen Carol without a smile. She'll always be remembered as the girl with the innocent babe-in-the-woods nature, full of life and youth. She is the one who is not afraid to speak her mind and fight for her beliefs.
Glee Club 1,2,3; Senior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1,2, 3,4.



ROBERT LAWRENCE MANNERS
"Sometimes a man can be too proud to fight." Bob is one of the quieter members of our class. He likes to sing and dance and this talent will help him in future years.

SANDRA PATRICIA MANNERS
"Let a smile be your umbrella." Sandy can be gay and carefree one minute and serious and studious the next. She has an infectious laugh and a good-natured look which are sure to help her to add to her list of friends.
Science Fair 4.

ANN ELIZABETH MARBLE
"A lady is serene." Elegant and poised, Ann may be remembered as a girl who is frank and understanding, has good taste in clothes, and would never miss a good time. She appears serene, but she can really "slay" you when you least expect it.
Glee Club 1,2; Science Club 3; Junior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

DIANE LEOLA MATTA
"Tomorrow, do thy worst, for I have lived today." To be introduced to Diane is to be introduced to happiness! If you see anyone doubling over with laughter, tears streaking his face, you can be sure Diane just gave him a dose of her quick wit and ever-present humor.
Glee Club 1, Vice President 2, President 3; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1,2, 3,4.

MARY DOROTHY MAY
"I'll speak in a monstrous, little voice." Mary's coquettish smile and meek voice have won her scores of friends. However, she doesn't fool us, for we all know that behind that fragile facade lies a heart full of mischief and gaiety.
Student Council 3,4, Treasurer 3; REFLECTOR Staff 3,4; Band 1, 2,3, Head Twirler 4; Glee Club 1,2; Debating Club 1; Office Staff 2,4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Ring Committee; Photography Committee; Washington Club; Field Hockey 1.

WILLIAM FRANCIS McMAHON, Jr.
"To be active is to lead a good life." Bill is one of the athletes of our class. He has been our class captain for four years and has helped us on our magazine drives.
Class Captain 1,2,3,4; Baseball 1,2,3, Co-captain 4; Basketball 1,2, Captain 3, Co-captain 4; Football 1,2,3.

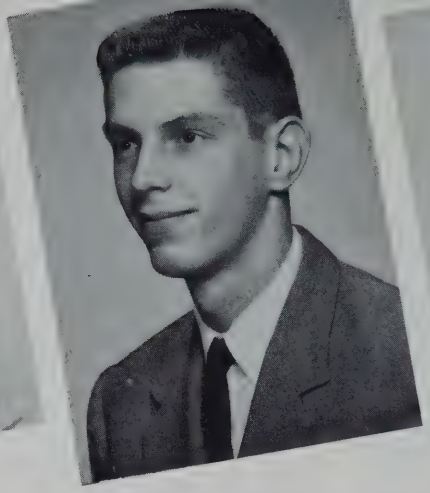
CAROL ELIZABETH MELANSON
"As long lives a merry heart as a sad." If this be so, Carol will live to be as old as Methuselah. Wherever she goes, the air is filled with glorious mirth and rollicking gaiety. Those who are lucky enough to know her will remember her always.
REFLECTOR Staff 3,4; Dramatic Club 1,2,3,4; Office Staff 3,4; Library Staff 2; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1,2, 3,4.

LEO KING MITCHELL
"His friends are many, his foes - - - are there any?" Leo will be remembered for his work on the decorating committees for the proms. His friendly and easy-going manner has brought him many friends at M. H. S.
REFLECTOR Staff 3,4.

GORDON CARL MODIG
"The man who minds his own business usually has a good one." Gordon is a tall, blonde-haired, blue-eyed Swede from East Millbury. His great pitching ability has led Millbury to many a baseball victory in four years.
Science Club 4; AFTERMATH Staff; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Science Fair 4; Baseball 1,2,3,4.

NANCY ANN MOORE
"The best things come in small packages!" Nancy is a demure little miss whose friendly smile is familiar to all. Whatever her future plans are, we are sure she will succeed.
REFLECTOR Staff 2,3; Glee Club 2, 3; Library Staff 1, 2, 3, 4; Washington Club 1; Talent Group 3.

MARGARET ANN MORIN
"After so long an absence, at last we meet again." Peggy came back to Millbury in our senior year after spending a year in Leicester High. We missed her bright, smiling face and sparkling sense of humor.
Glee Club 1,2,3; Science Club 4; Science Fair 2,4; Library Staff 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee.



ROLAND JOSEPH MORIN, Jr.
"Jolly and carefree. "Joe, a jolly good fellow, has been very quiet during these four years. Nevertheless, he has made many friends among the Industrial Art boys.
Industrial Arts Fair 3.

RICHARD WARD MURRA
"He does a thousand things one knows." Although Ricky usually a quiet boy, he will spe his mind on questions that see important to him.
Class Vice President 4; Ri Committee 2; Science Fair

DAVID CHAP NEEDHAM
"Calmness is not always the attribute of innocence." Dave is one of our class sportsmen indulging in hunting and fishing. His work on the Student Council for four years is greatly appreciated.
Student Council 1,2,3, Treasurer 4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Motto Committee.

ANN MARIE NORTON
"I shall light a candle of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out." Ann reserves her real fun-loving self for her friends, yet always has a warm smile for everyone. Her dark, wavy hair and dimples are assets she puts forth very becomingly.
Glee Club 1; Washington Club 1, 2,3.

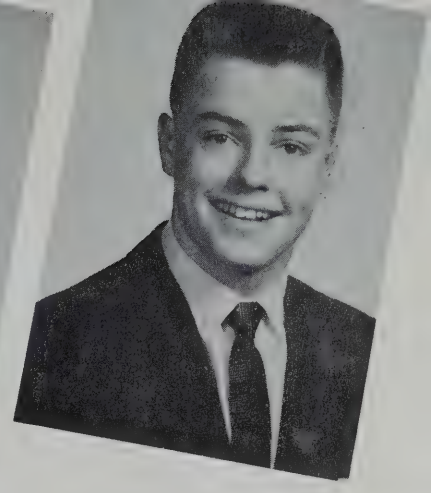
MAUREEN ROSE O'TOOLE
"Irish Eyes are Smiling." Maureen is a petite miss who joined us in our junior year. Although she hasn't had the opportunity to take part in many activities, we all recognize her willing spirit. Her sparkling Irish personality is reflected in her exuberance.

JANICE JEAN PELOQUIN
"A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere. Before her, I may think aloud." "J.P." is one of the most athletic girls in the class. Whether she's in a game or walking down the street she always has a smile and a friendly word for everyone.
REFLECTOR Staff 2,3,4; Band 2, 3; Cheerleader 1,2; Dramatic Club 3; Office Staff 1,2,3,4; Library Staff 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1; Class Day Speaker; Field Hockey 3,4; Basketball 3, Co-captain 4; Softball 1,2,3, Co-captain 4.

BARBARA ANN PERKINS
"Her ways are ways of pleasantness and all her paths of peace." Barbara is quiet and very pleasant to know. She seems to enjoy herself when talking with a group of girls in the halls.
Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

JOY ANN PERRY
"Let Joy be unconfined!" Fresh air and sunshine remind you of Joy. Her neat appearance and happy disposition may account for her peck of friends and bushels of good times. Her artistic help with our proms added a great deal to their success.
Glee Club 3; Senior Prom Committee 4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Field Hockey, Manager 3,4.

MARILYN LEE PERRY
"Smile when all is dreary, and smile when all is glad." No matter what the circumstances, Marilyn can always be counted on to come through with a smile. Her many friends have been won by her elfish mien and gorgeous, blue eyes that overflow with brightness and vitality.
Glee Club 2,3; Junior Prom Committee; Photography Committee; Washington Club 1,2, 3.



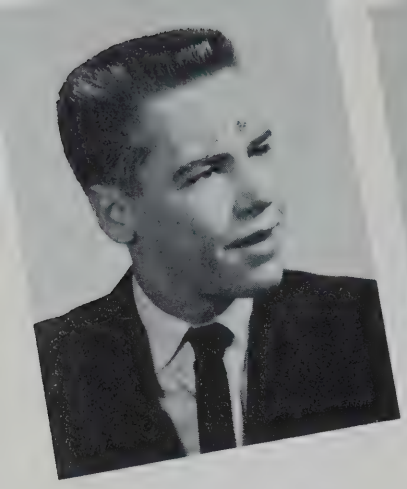
JULIAN RENE PLAUD
"As prone to mischief as able to perform it," Jules will never be forgotten by his classmates for his rare sense of humor and his tireless efforts to make everyone just a little bit happier. He is at ease with anyone and is quite the camera bug.
Football 4.

KATHLEEN PRENDIVILLE
"I am a part of all that I have met." A spritely, talented girl in every aspect, Kathy fights for her rights and usually wins her cause. . .could be no one can resist her gamin expression and cunning ways. She's the center of fun and a leader in everything she has attempted.
Senior Honor Student; Student Council 1,2,3,4; REFLECTOR 3, Assistant Editor 4; Band 2,3, Secretary and Head Majorette 4; Dramatic Club 1,4; Office Staff 2, 4; Prom Committee 3; AFTERMATH, Assistant Editor 4; Photography Committee, Chairman 4; Washington Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3, 4; Graduation Speaker 4; Pre-College Education Program Representative 4; Motto Committee 4.

LOUIS EDWARD RACICOT
"Rome was not built in a day - so why hurry." Louie is one of the quieter boys in our class. He hails from East Millbury and spends most of his time fixing his car or riding around in it.

ROSE ANNA RENAULD
"Laugh and be well." Roseanne is the kind of girl we like to have around when we need some cheering up. She is most often seen laughing and talking to Pauline in the corridors or home rooms.

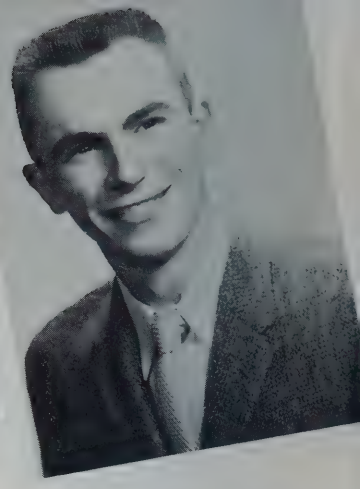
PATRICIA ANN RICE
"Deeds, not words." Pat is the kind of girl who says little but does much. She has been a great asset to our basketball and softball teams. Her many friends testify to her pleasant personality.
Glee Club 1; Basketball 1,2,3, Co-captain 4; Softball 3.



TERRENCE WALTER RILEY
"I would do what I pleased." Did he fool you, too? Terry appears rather quiet, but he's a little rascal when he's let loose. We'll always remember him for his unselfishness - his heart makes up for his size.

GLORIA JEAN RIVERS
"Petite and sweet." Gloria can often be heard lamenting because she is so tiny. Despite her smallness, she has always had a friendly greeting for everyone.
Glee Club 1,2,3.

CORINNE ROBERTA RUSSELL
"They give light without meaning to shine." All of her friends will testify that Corinne is full of fun and will never shirk a good time. Many an eye has been caught by her coy smile.
Glee Club 4; Office Staff 4; Library Staff 1,2,3,4.



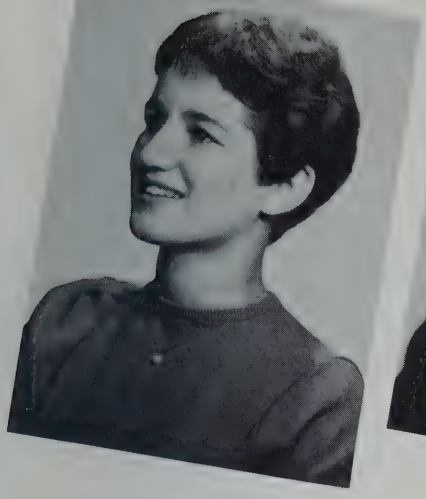
WILLIAM ARTHUR RUSSELL
"A little fun makes the world go 'round." Confucius says, "Where there is fun, there is Bill." Far be it from Bill to disprove this old proverb. His boyish pranks will always be remembered by us as his trademark.
Track 1.

PATRICIA ANN SADOWSKI
"Eyes that are fountains of thought and song." Pat, one of our cheerleaders, has led us in many a cheer. She has a great desire to become a nurse, and our conviction is that she shall. Her fresh beauty certainly supports the standard joke about pretty nurses and male patients.
Cheerleader 3,4; Biology Club 2; Dramatic Club 2, 3; Ring Committee; Washington Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball, Assistant Manager 2; Field Hockey 1,2; Class Song Committee.

PHYLLIS ANN SAMKO
"Has tongue at will, yet never loud." Phyl is sometimes quiet but always friendly. She plans to be a nurse, and her pleasant smile and pleasing personality will work wonders with her patients.
Basketball 3.

ELLEN CLAIRE SANTON
"I am not arguing with you - I'm telling you." Ellen has firm convictions and will not believe in anything she can't see. She has proved this many times in her study of chemistry.
REFLECTOR 3,4; Science Club 4; Debating Club 1; Office Staff 3,4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Science Fair 4; Basketball 2,3, Manager; Field Hockey 1,2,3,4.

JANET MARIE SCHUNMANN
"Smile and the world smiles with you," Janet's ready smile and sunny disposition will insure her happiness throughout life. We're sure her training as a nurse will enable her to take excellent care of a certain young gentleman.
Glee Club 2; Office Staff 4; Senior Prom Committee 4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Science Fair 4; Field Hockey 2,3.

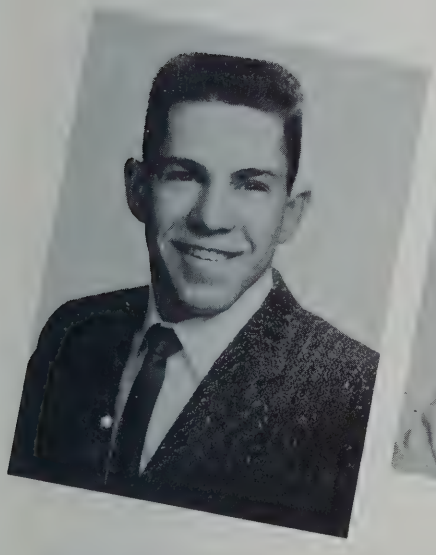


PATRICIA ANNE SHEEHAN
"Of soul sincere, in action faithful and honor clear." Pat always has a winning smile and a good joke for everyone. Her witty sense of humor has brightened many an hour for her classmates. We're sure she'll make a wonderful nurse.
REFLECTOR Staff 3,4; Glee Club 1,2,3; Science Club 4; Debating Club 1,2; Dramatic Club 1,2,3,4; Library Staff 1,2; Senior Prom Committee; Science Fair 4; Talent Group 1,2; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

RONALD ARTHUR STEAD
"Happy-go-lucky, cheerful and gay, a wonderful fellow in every way." Ron's cheerful spirit and attitude make him a welcome addition to any group. His magnetic personality and boyish smile have drawn many to his company.
Baseball 2, 3,4; Basketball 3, Co-captain 4; Football 2,3,4; AFTERMATH Staff; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Science Fair 4; Class Day Speaker.

KATHLEEN ELIZABETH STUART
"Friendships multiply joys and divide griefs." Sweet, fair, and a smile for everyone best describes Kathy. You can count on her to put her "all" in everything she attempts, and come out way ahead.
REFLECTOR Staff 4; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Prom Committee; AFTERMATH Staff; Washington Club 1,2,3,4; Motto Committee 4.

DOROTHY LOUISE SWEENEY
"Words and then more words, words, words." Dot seems not to have a care in the world, but when the occasion calls for it, she can be quite serious minded. She enjoys being with a crowd and her enthusiasm for any suggestion is overwhelming.
Glee Club 1, Vice President 3, Treasurer 4; Talent Group 3.



RICHARD WILFRED TAFT
To hear, to see, to feel, and o possess." Dick is our Cherrios Kid." His get-up and

GAIL JOAN TAILLEFER
"There's no cosmetic for beauty but happiness." Gail is a pretty girl who enhances her beauty with her sunny dispostion. She is a gay lass, always ready for a chuckle and a good time. The Dorothy Pond area is a gayer place because of her.
REFLECTOR Staff 4; Office Staff 4.

JANET BARBARA TAYLOR
"Smile when all is dreary, and smile when all is sad." Janet is one of our quieter girls; however, she has a quick smile that everyone recognizes. The sparkle on her left hand shows us that her future has already been decided.

BARBARA TEBO
"How far the little candle throws its beams!" Barbara is one of our class actresses - her work on the school plays has been greatly appreciated. She plans to enter college and study physical therapy; thus, we wish her much success.

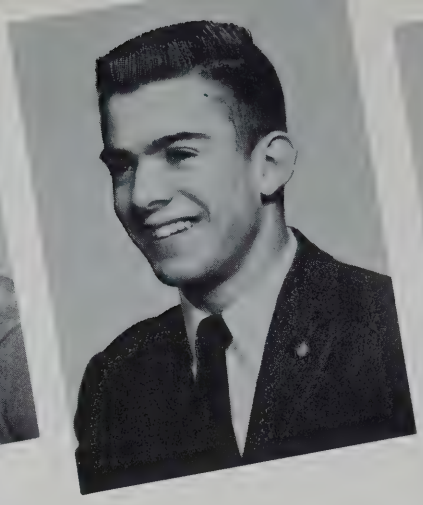
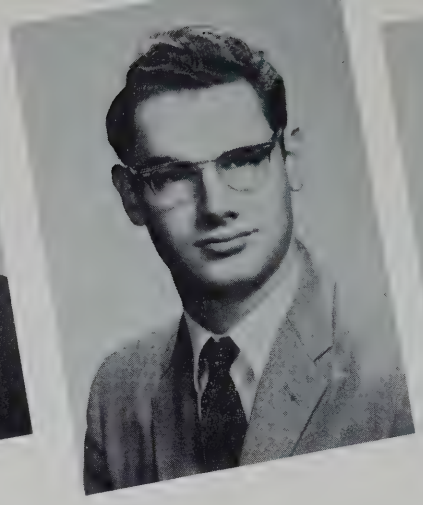
JOYCE CAROL THOMAS
"Always leave them laughing." Joyce will be remembered for her jovial manner and her hilarious jokes. One of the East Millbury group, she is always willing to help anyone at anytime.
Debating Club, Assistant Secretary 3; Washington Club 1, 2,3; Field Hockey 1.



WILLIAM INGRAHAM THOMPSON III
"Pride in his port, defiance in his eye." An ambitious boy who has proven that fun and work do mix by his determination to succeed, his love of a good time, and his willingness to help at a moment's call. Scientifically inclined, he's just the one to get us to the moon. Just wait and see!
Student Council 2,3, President 4; AFTERMATH, Associate Editor; Science Club 4; Biology Club 2, President 4; Junior Prom Committee; Photography Committee 4; Student Government Day Representative; Science Fair 2,3,4; Track 1,2, 3,4; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.



GERARD MARC TROTTIER
"For a dim and lofty goal, he strives with heart and soul." Gerry is working hard to attain his goal in the field of science, but he mixes well his work and play. Many a class has been brightened by his witty remarks and cheerful smile.
Band 2,3,4; Science Club 4; Biology Club 4; Science Fair 2,4; Basketball 1,2,3; Football 2.

CAROL ANN VEGNONE
"The light of love, the purity of grace, the mind, music, breathing from her face." When Carol smiles, she beams, and her rays are always reflecting on us. As one of the best dressed - she made all her clothes - girls in the school, she energetically cheered our teams on, and accomplished a thousand other tasks as well.
Class Secretary 1, 2, 3, 4; Cheerleader 1,2,3, Captain 4; Office Staff 2; Prom Committee 3,4; Washington Club 1.

RONALD JAMES WELCOM
"He's wise, he's merry, for he hasn't a worry." Ron is the kind of fellow who will try anything once. He can usually be seen working in Goyette's Market, riding around with the "boys," or talking to Carolyn.
Science Club 1,3,4; French Club 1,2; Biology Club 2; Washington Club 1,2,3,4.

DOUGLAS SAMUEL WILSON
"Enjoying the calm, peace, and quiet." "Doug" came to us in our senior year, yet didn't lose time in making friends. As a new member of the class, he pitched right in and helped whenever he could. With his friendly cooperation, we regret that he wasn't here earlier for our past class projects.

GRANT DAVID WITTERS, Jr.
"His cares are all now ended." "Tink" is one of our class mechanics. He joined us in our junior year of high school and has made many friends among us. Many of us love to listen to him talk because of his Connecticut accent.
Science Fair 4.

Address of Welcome

Parents, Members of the Faculty, Friends, and Classmates:

I sincerely appreciate the honor and privilege accorded me to extend to you, in behalf of the Class of 1959, a most hearty and cordial welcome to our Class Day exercises.

The day to which we have looked forward with so much anticipation has finally arrived. It signifies the successful culmination of our high school years, years which we feel have been most rewarding and which we know will long be remembered.

We are mindful that this momentous occasion could never have been possible had it not been for the sacrifice, love, and devotion of our parents. May we bring great honor to them in the future.

We are grateful too, to our principal, Mr. Beaton, who has always shown a willingness to help us in every way possible.

We are sincerely appreciative of the kind and expert guidance of the members of the faculty, whose efforts have prepared us for the many problems we are to encounter in the years to come.

I hope that on this, our Class Day, you will enjoy reminiscing with us and will remember that the Class of 1959 has "Not Finished - Just Begun."

CLASS SONG

I

We gather here to bid farewell
To Alma Mater Millbury High
Tho' we may leave with saddened hearts
Fond memories will never die.

II

Most meaningful the years have been
Our goal we've always kept in mind.
With faith of parents, teachers, friends,
A purpose they have helped us find.

III

Now, as this day draws to a close,
Our saddened thoughts with joys entwine.
Part of our lives you'll always be.
Farewell, dear Class of Fifty-Nine.

CHORUS

Yes, we know our last year's done,
But we're not finished, just begun.

CLASS MOTTO: Not finished, just begun.

CLASS COLORS: Green and white

CLASS FLOWER: Carnation

Class History

About this time four years ago, something which we all thought was really big was happening to two groups of us. Yes, we were graduating from junior high school. Some of us from Millbury Junior High and some from Assumption Junior High, but we all had one thing in common - we were all eagerly awaiting the day when we would join the throng of students at Millbury Memorial High School.

In September of 1955, we entered high school one hundred thirty-two strong, and on our first day we suddenly found ourselves in the auditorium receiving our welcoming address from our principal, Mr. Beaton. We were cautioned that we must obey all the rules and regulations of the school; but, like all freshmen, some of us threw caution to the winds and found out the hard way that these rules were not to be broken.

Shortly thereafter we elected our class officers. From the many worthy students who were nominated, we finally chose Claudette Anger as our class president; Carol Faucher, vice president; Ann Dalbec, treasurer, and Carol Ann Vegnone, secretary. The sole male member of our slate of officers was Bill McMahon, who was elected as our class captain.

Our Student Council members were next to be elected, and Kathy Prendiville and Dave Needham were chosen to serve with our class president on the Council.

Over the years it has been found that not too many freshmen go out for sports. This, however, was not true of the Class of '59. All athletic teams, both boys and girls, found a large group of freshman aspirants ready and willing. It was a humble beginning for many freshmen who, in the years ahead, were to be star athletes for Millbury High.

Two of our girls were great assets to the boys' athletic teams this first year. They were our freshman cheerleaders, Janice Peloquin and Carol Ann Vegnone.

When the call came for the Public Speaking Club, eleven students signed up - all freshman girls. Our only member of the REFLECTOR Staff this first year was our lively feminine reporter, Lea Gonya.

Nine of our group were in the Dramatic Club, and Jean Lemanski and Terry Desrosiers had leading parts in the annual school play, GHOST WANTED.

Before we had fully recovered from mid-year exams, summer vacation had come and we all left school in a daze. It had been a fast and hectic year for us and, although we wouldn't admit it, most of us were a bit anxious to start our sophomore year. We had that feeling of belonging.

We were a sophisticated group when we entered our second year - or so we thought - and we were determined to do better this year. We proved that we could. The year started by our re-electing the same class officers who had served us so well during our freshman year. And at this same time, September of 1956, we met two new teachers, Mr. Arthur Smith taught Consumer Economics and Commercial Geography, and Miss Jean Shea taught English I. Miss Honora Kinniery now taught United States History.

We were very well represented in both boys' and girls' sports again this year; and some of our outstanding male athletes were Bill McMahon, Fred Peterson, Bill Moreau, Ray Baroni, Phil Hodgman and Dick Hochowski. All these boys were lettermen in various sports during our sophomore year.

The field hockey team was comprised of a large group of our girls, and the softball team had Janice Peloquin playing regularly. Pat Rice saw a lot of varsity basketball action, and a large group of sophomores were found on the Jayvee teams.

Bill Thompson was elected as our new member of the Student Council. Because of sickness our class treasurer had to leave school, and Nancy Lundstrom was elected to fill that post. In February of '57, Mr. Richard Greene joined the faculty to teach Consumer Economics and Commercial Geography, formerly taught by Mr. Smith.

Sylvia Hindon, Ted Howard, Jerry Trottier, John Sheehan and Dave Anderson helped to make up the Band.

As sophomores we practically took over the Glee Club. Of its fifty-two members, twenty-four were our classmates. Both of these groups helped to make that year's Central Massachusetts Music Festival, which was held at Millbury High, an overwhelming success.

We also had the pleasure of seeing our own Talent Group in action during an assembly program. Members of our class who helped to make the show a success were Beverly Burl, Pauline Combs, and Sylvia Hindon.

The Biology Club attracted Pat Sadowski, Jerry Trottier, Bill Thompson, and Sandra Dufresne as its sophomore members.

We were also well represented on the REFLECTOR Staff, in the Dramatic Club, on the Office and the Library Staffs. As a whole, we got a lot of enjoyment from our sophomore year, and its end came much too fast for many of us.

We entered our junior year the following September, and we were soon wearing our new class rings, which had been selected for us by a very able Ring Committee composed of Joy Kortekamp, Mary May, Pat Sadowski, Richard Jacobson, and Richard Murray.

Our same class officers were re-elected, and Mary May was elected our new member of the Student Council.

Pat Sadowski, Janice Peloquin, Barbara Tebo, and Lea Gonya were the class actresses this year; and they appeared in the annual school play, "YOU CAN'T KISS CAROLINE."

As juniors we again fared well in athletics; the girls' hockey team won 11 of 12 games. At the end of the year we had fifteen new lettermen (boys and girls) to add to our already impressive list. This year the boys were coached by Mr. Philip Philip.

The baseball team had one of its best years; and it was greatly helped by Phil Hodgman, Bill McMahon, Ray Baroni, Richard Jacobson, and Gordon Modig.

Junior girls who helped bring home a winner in softball were Janice Peloquin, Pat Rice, and Nancy Lundstrom.

Bill McMahon was given the honor of being elected captain of the basketball squad.

We continued to keep our majority in the Glee Club, nineteen of its thirty-four members being juniors.

The Science Club found Ann Marble, Joy Kortekamp, Keith Dobie, and Henry Dowgielewicz as its Junior Class members; and we were represented in the Debating Club by Joyce Thomas and Maida Deming.

The Band had Kathy Prendiville, Mary Langway, Carol Faucher, Carolyn Alix, and Mary May strutting, while Dick Hochowski, Ted Howard, Dave Anderson, and Jerry Trottier played musical instruments.

Juniors on the Library Staff were Pat Sheehan, Dot Kusy, and Nancy Moore; and on the Office Staff were Linda Carlson, Janice Peloquin, Maida Deming, Jean Lemanski, Carol Melanson, Ellen Santon, and Barbara Tebo.

The REFLECTOR Staff had fifteen active juniors, and the Talent Group toured the neighboring schools with six juniors helping to provide the entertainment.

The theme of our Junior Prom was "Dutch Symphony," and it was made successful chiefly through the efforts of the many committee chairmen. Among these were Ann Marble, Mary Langway, Linda Carlson, and Lea Gonya. Marilyn Perry was chosen Queen of the Prom; and Barbara Howe, Carolyn Alix, and Kathy Prendiville were chosen members of her court.

Summer came quickly, and we all went home for a well deserved vacation to rest up for our final year at Millbury High, a year which held many promises for us.

Our senior year began on a note of sadness, for shortly after we returned we learned that one of our teachers, Miss Honora Kinniery, had passed away. However, we were greeted by Miss Joan Shea, Miss Elizabeth Walsh, Mr. Hudson Matson, Mr. Edward Cronin, and Mr. Victor Morano, who were starting their first year as teachers at Millbury High.

At our first class meeting we re-elected the same class officers; and Marilyn Perry, Kathy Prendiville, Bill Thompson, Lea Gonya, and Mary May were elected to serve as our Photography Committee.

The Student Council elected Bill Thompson as president, Claudette Anger as vice president, and Dave Needham as treasurer.

Lea Gonya was elected as editor in chief of our AFTERMATH, and her assistant editors were Kathy Prendiville and Nancy Lundstrom with Bill Thompson and Janice Lindberg as associate editors.

The hockey team was led to a successful season by its Co-captains Carolyn Johnson and Linda Carlson along with five other seniors, Janice Peloquin, Barbara Tebo, Barbara Howe, Nancy Lundstrom, and Ellen Santon.

Captain Ron Gonyea led the football team, assisted by seniors Phil Hodgman, Ed Faron, Henry Dowgielewicz, Dick Hochowski, Dick Taft, Julian Plaud, Stanley Dandro, and Ronald Stead.

Shortly before Christmas, Nancy Lundstrom was elected D. A. R. representative.

The Biology Club had Bill Thompson as president, and Henry Dowgielewicz was elected president of the Science Club with Keith Dobie as its treasurer.

Kathy Stuart was chosen Chairman of the AFTERMATH Advertising Committee, which was comprised of Carolyn Alix, Bill Thompson, Gordon Modig and Ron Stead.

Seniors on the basketball team were Co-captains Bill McMahon and Ron Stead, Dick Hochowski, Dick Jacobson, Dick Taft and Ron Gonyea.

The girls' basketball team was led by Co-captains Janice Peloquin and Pat Rice. Members of the team were Mary Langway, Kathy Prendiville, Joy Kortekamp, Nancy Lundstrom and Sharon Bordash.

January 30 was the date set for the Senior Prom, and committee chairmen for the gala evening were Barbara Tebo, Decorating; Janice Peloquin, Orchestra; Barbara Perkins, Tickets; Joy Kortekamp, Chaperones; and Carol Vegnone, Invitations.

On prom night Kathy Prendiville was chosen as our queen with Barbara Howe, Janice Peloquin, Barbara Perkins, and Marilyn Perry as members of her court.

The annual Science Fair was held in February, and Bill Thompson and Jerry Trottier walked off with top honors. Nancy Lundstrom, Pat Sheehan, Margaret Morin, Keith Dobie, and Gordon Modig earned honorable mention.

Kathy Prendiville starred in the annual school play, THE LITTLE DOG LAUGHED; and Lea Gonya, Linda Carlson, Carol Melanson, Barbara Tebo, and Jean Lemanski helped to make the play a success.

Class Day speakers were chosen as follows: Address of Welcome, Claudette Anger; Class Prophecy, Dick Jacobson; Statistics, Janice Peloquin; Class Gifts, Linda Carlson; Omissions and Corrections, Carolyn Alix; Last Will and Testament, Mary Langway; and Class History, Ron Stead.

The class song was chosen by Barbara Howe, Linda Carlson, and Pat Sadowski; and the motto was chosen by David Needham, Kathy Stuart, and Kathy Prendiville.

Nancy Lundstrom, Linda Carlson, Carolyn Johnson, Barbara Howe, Jean Lemanski, Kathy Prendiville, Lea Gonya, Claudette Anger, and Janice Lindberg are our senior honor students; and from this group Kathy Prendiville, Nancy Lundstrom, Claudette Anger, and Lea Gonya were chosen as graduation speakers.

This year's softball team was led by Co-captains Janice Peloquin and Nancy Lundstrom; and the baseball team was led by Co-captains Phil Hodgman and Bill McMahon, with senior team members Dick Jacobson, Gordon Modig, Ray Baroni, and Ron Stead.

Seniors who helped the track team to take fifth place in the annual Spencer meet were Co-captains Harold Grahn and Dick Hochowski, with Dick Taft, Ron Gonyea, Bill Thompson, and Ted Howard.

As we turn the pages of the book called THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES, we experience a sensation of nostalgia. Will the next four years be as happy and as rewarding as those which have just passed? God willing, the future will hold the best of everything for the Class of 1959.

50. To the incoming freshmen we leave the four best years of their lives.

We, the Senior Class of Millbury Memorial High School, sincerely hope the above mentioned are satisfied with their bequests. We trust and hope that there will be no contesting of doubtful privileges bequeathed to one in preference to another.

Signed by all present:

Alvin, Theodore, and Simon Chipmunk

By the hand of their clerk,

Mary Langway

Prophecy

As I entered my paper-cluttered office of the New York TIMES, the telephone began to ring. Picking up the receiver, I heard the familiar cry of my boss, "Get the scoop on the man-piloted rocket bound for the moon!"

"Yes, boss," I replied. Well, here I go on another one of those boring trips, I thought to myself. You see, I am a news reporter, and getting stories such as this is my job.

I went home, packed my bags, got a taxi, and departed for the airport. When I arrived there I bought a ticket to Florida, where the rocket launching was to take place. The flight manager told me my plane would arrive in half an hour.

Meanwhile, as I was waiting, I picked up a magazine; and there on the cover was a picture of KATHLEEN PRENDIVILLE, an old high school friend. I thumbed through the magazine and located her article entitled, "When I Was a Teen-Ager."

As I walked out to board the plane, I wondered what all my classmates were doing. After all, it had been fifteen years since I had last seen them.

At the end of the runway, I was greeted by a friendly hello. I looked up and saw the smiling face of RITA LACHANCE, who was now an airline stewardess. After the initial surprise wore off, I asked her if she knew the whereabouts of any of our classmates. She told me JANICE PELOQUIN was very happily married and had three children. JANE JACKSON, NANCY MOORE, MAUREEN O'TOOLE and JOY PERRY had formed a quartet and were making their mark in the musical world. Also on the stage was MARILYN PERRY, one of the top ventriloquists in the country. Unfortunately Rita had to leave after she divulged this information because one of the passengers needed reassurance on his first flight.

After landing, I went directly to the rocket site because the launching was scheduled to take place in an hour. There was a large crowd on the outskirts of the area and there were many guards. All of a sudden I heard the shrill blast of a car horn, and a big black limousine with miniature rockets painted all over it came rolling in. In it sat none other than WILLIAM THOMPSON and HENRY DOWGIELEWICZ. Spotting me, they motioned me to join them. They told me that they were the engineers in charge of the launching and that RAYMOND BARONI, MARCEL BOUDREAU, DONALD BRADY, and VINCENT GREGONIS were the human torpedoes.

After a grim farewell and a very successful launching, I had a hearty bean dinner with Bill. Our after-dinner conversation was most enlightening. He told me that LEA GONYA and CAROLYN JOHNSON were his secretaries; BARBARA PERKINS and GAIL TAILLEFER were Henry's; and BETTY FORREST, their I.B.M. manager.

I left Bill to go to the hotel, and as I walked along, I noticed an unusual sign. On the side of a building was a huge poster with two vicious, but very familiar faces. I read below the pictures and found out that ALLAN HAYDEN, better known as "The Crusher" in the wrestling world, and his partner, LEO "Jo-Jo" KRUMSIEK, were wrestling for the world's tag team championship that very night.

As I headed in what I thought was the direction of the sports arena, I saw the lights of a ball park. I walked to the entrance and asked who was playing. I was stunned to hear the Millbury Wildcats were playing the New York Yankees. Since the name of the former team was very familiar to me, I had to go in to see what was going on. From my seat in back of the dugout, I was astonished to see PHILIP HODGMAN coaching. Among his very healthy looking team were EDWARD HOWARD, STANLEY DANDRO, ALBERT BREAULT, RAYMOND BIANCHI, KENNETH ARMY, LEO MITCHELL, JOSEPH MORIN, and WILLIAM RUSSELL. They were doing very well when suddenly something hit me.

I woke up in the comfortable bed of a hospital and was told by the pretty nurses, JANET SCHUNMANN, ANN MARBLE, and PATRICIA SHEEHAN, that I had been struck by a foul ball. As we continued our conversation, I learned that MARGARET MORIN was also a nurse, and that GERARD TROTTIER was the director of biological research at the hospital.

After a few days' convalescence, I said good-by to my friends. My first stop was a barber shop to get a haircut. There I found DONALD FARON lowering the ears of EDWARD FARON, principal of the local high school. Don's assistants were KEITH DOBIE and GORDON MODIG. During my conversation with Ed, I learned that JOY KORTEKAMP, JANICE LINDBERG, and MARY MAY were teachers at his school. He also mentioned NANCY LUNDSTROM, who was a teacher of advanced calculus at the local college.

Next door to the barber shop was a beauty salon owned and operated by PAULINE COMBS, whose assistants were PAULINE CAPUANO and ROSE ANNA RENAULD. And I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw who their customers were. None other than MARY LANGWAY and DIANE MATTA, leading TV actresses!

I then had to get the latest report on the rocket, so I went to the nearest telephone booth to call the launching station. I dialed and heard a familiar voice answer, "Operator." I thought I recognized it, and sure enough it was SANDRA DUFRESNE. During our short conversation she told me that SARA LILLEY, EDITH LACHAPELLE, and BEVERLY HAMILTON were working on the switchboard with her.

After I got the report on the rocket, I went to the shopping district of the city. In the middle of the common, a large crowd had gathered around a rostrum. Immediately I recognized the golden voice of RONALD STEAD. He had put his political knowledge to good use and was running for mayor. On his left, waiting his turn to speak, was his opponent, WILLIAM McMAHON. TERRENCE RILEY and KENNETH KING were their campaign managers, respectively.

I had heard there was a circus in town, and in my quest for a little entertainment I tried to locate it. I located not only the circus, but also some of my old classmates.

"Come one, come all. See the famous lion tamer, JULIAN PLAUD. See the expert tightrope walker, DOUGLAS WILSON. See DONALD JEZYK and LOUIS RACICOT on the flying trapeze!" I couldn't believe that the barker was none other than RICHARD HOCHOWSKI. I spoke with Dick and learned that the circus was owned by RONALD GONYEA and DAVID CULLINA.

After the enjoyable performance I strolled back toward my hotel in the city. Stopping in a department store to buy a shirt, I was astounded to meet CLAUDETTE ANGER, LINDA CARLSON, JANET TAYLOR, and JOYCE THOMAS, all famous dress designers. Our conversation was interrupted while PATRICIA SADOWSKI, PHYLLIS SAMKO, BARBARA HOWE, and CAROL VEGNONE modeled the beautiful creations of these four famous designers.

I left the store and saw a big broad-shouldered Marine walking in front of me. When he turned around, I recognized Captain HAROLD GRAHN, who invited me to join him at DAVID COFSKE'S Golden Night Club.

It was necessary for me to decline, but Harold acquainted me with the whereabouts of several former classmates before we parted. JOHN DEETER was now a prominent garage owner. Harold suggested that since I was in the neighborhood, I stop at the Jiffy Construction Company to see DAVID ANDERSON and RICHARD MURRAY, the owners.

Although time was of the essence, I took advantage of the opportunity to renew acquaintances with JEAN LEMANSKI, CAROL MELANSON, and KATHLEEN STUART, secretaries to the owners of this impressive organization. We were having a friendly chat when NORMAN FAIRBANKS entered. It was quite evident that he was surprised also. He had come to see Ricky about a construction job for his real estate company. While he was waiting, he invited me to play golf with him that afternoon. I told him that I had made a hasty departure and had neither clubs nor shoes with me. He agreed to lend me clubs and suggested that I go to RICHARD TAFT'S sports store for shoes.

When I located the store, I found ROBERT HOKANSON, co-owner, behind the counter. Dick was out, but Bob told me that CAROL MADSEN and DOROTHY KUSY did their secretarial work. He also told me to stop to see PATRICIA RICE and SHARON BORDASH, who were leaving for Europe with the U. S. Women's Olympic basketball team.

After a very lively game of golf that afternoon, I stopped for ice cream. Owners of the lovely spot were ROBERT and SANDRA MANNERS. When I sat down, I noticed ELLEN SANTON and BARBARA TEBO sitting next to me. Ellen informed me that she was a grammar school teacher and Barbara was director of physiotherapy at the polio ward of the nearby hospital.

It was time again to get the news on the rocket. Next morning I boarded the first bus for the launching grounds. When I sat down beside a young lady with a large square package in her hands, I realized that she was CAROLYN ALIX. The package contained a picture she had painted. She was now a professional artist and on her way to the art gallery. She mentioned that BEVERLY FOX and GLORIA RIVERS were the managers of the gallery.

I wished her luck and then went on to see Bill. He explained what was happening, but much of the information didn't make sense to me. In order to write a good article, I decided to go to the library to get a little additional information.

I was still wandering around looking for volumes on rocketry when I heard a helpful voice say, "May I help you, sir?" I turned and faced MAIDA DEMING, the librarian. After we located the necessary information, our conversation turned to our former classmates. She explained to me that two of her friends, BARBARA COMPTOIS and ANN NORTON, were missionaries in California. CORINNE RUSSELL and DOROTHY SWEENEY were doing very well designing and selling their own hats.

I had now completed one of the most enjoyable trips of my life. I had written a very good article for my paper, and met many of my former classmates, or heard about their achievements - except one. But as I arrived at the airport to depart for New York, I found him. Yes, DAVID NEEDHAM, now director of fisheries and game in Alaska, was waiting for the westbound flight to California.

As my plane soared through the clouds, I thanked God that the Class of 1959 had fared so well.

We give this songbook.
Much joy may it bring!

To Sandra Manners,
With beautiful eyes,
We give these glasses
To make her look wise.

To Ann Marble,
A nurse to be,
We give this gold frame
For her degree.

To Diane Matta,
Who is so fair,
We give this comb
For her blonde hair.

To Mary May,
Who is friendly to all,
We give this car
That will not stall.

To Bill McMahon,
Who is sharp as a tack,
We give this tie.
Hope you like it, Mac!

To Carol Melanson,
Who loves to read,
We give this bookmark
Which she may need.

To Leo Mitchell,
A quiet fellow,
We give this megaphone
So that he can bellow.

To Gordon Modig,
Who played on our baseball team,
We give this ball
To show our esteem.

To Nancy Moore,
Who is petite,
We give this candy
To keep her sweet.

To Joseph Morin,
Whose friends call him Joe,
We give to him
This new chapeau.

To Margaret Morin,
Known as "Peggy" to most,
We give this marshmallow
Which she can toast.

To Ricky Murray,
Who'll go very far,
To help get him there,
We give this car.

To Dave Needham,
Who is a wit,
We give this jokebook.
It's a favorite!

To Ann Norton,
A West Millbury-ite,
For her long walk home
We give this flashlight.

To Maureen O'Toole,
An Irish queen,
We give this shamrock
Of Kelly green.

To Janice Peloquin,
Who soon will marry,
We give this bouquet
For her to carry.

To Barbara Perkins,
Who is a cute lass,
We give to her
This looking glass.

To Joy Perry,
Who is very neat,
We give this candy
For her to eat.

To Marilyn Perry
With a talent unique,
We give this doll.
She can make it speak.

To Julian Plaud,
Who, on the boat, lost his shoes,
We give him another pair
Which he may use.

To Kathy Prendiville,
A budding star,
We give this trophy;
We're sure she'll go far.

To Louis Racicot,
A proud car owner,
We give this wrench
So that he can tone 'er.

To Rose Anna Renauld,
Who's full of fun,
We give this toy mouse.
Bet she'll run.

To Pat Rice,
Who works in town,
We give this pad
So she may write her orders down.

To Terry Riley,
Whose car is white,
We give this polish
To keep it bright.

To Gloria Rivers,
A girl so small
We give these vitamins
To make her tall.

To Corinne Russell,
A Drum Corps girl,
We give this baton
For her to twirl.

To Billy Russell,
Who's a happy lad,
We give this car
So that he'll never be sad.

To Pat Sadowski,
A nurse of the future,
To her we give
This needle and suture.

To Phyllis Samko,
Who wants a six-footer,
We give this ruler
To measure her suitor.

To Ellen Santon,
A teacher someday,
We give this ruler.
Her pupils will obey!

To Janet Schunmann,
A girl with class,
We give a mirror.
To this gay lass.

To Pat Sheehan
With a continuous grin,
We give this top
Which she can spin.

To Ronnie Stead
So jolly and mellow,
We tip this hat.
He's a really fine fellow!

To Kathleen Stuart,
A gal with a car,
We give this road map.
It won't lead you far.

To Dot Sweeney,
Who has the gift of gab,
We give this phone
On which to confab.

To Dick Taft,
An athletic star,
We give this ball.
He can throw it far!

To Gail Taillefer,
Who has chosen her mate,
We give this calendar
So she'll set the date.

To Janet Taylor,
Better known as "Jan,"
We give this lotion
For a sun tan.

To Barbara Tebo,
Who really can sew,
We give these needles.
Now watch her go!

To Joyce Thomas
So happy and gay,
We give this bouquet
So that she'll stay that way.

To Billy Thompson,
Who's bound for the moon,
We give this spaceship.
Hope he gets there soon!

To Jerry Trottier,
A scientist to be,
We give this slide
For him to see.

To Carol Vegnone
Of our cheering squad,
We give this megaphone.
For her we'll applaud.

To Ronnie Welcom,
Who hates to leave,
We give this hankie
In which to grieve.

To Douglas Wilson,
A fifty-niner,
We give this
Little ocean liner.

To Grant Witters,
Known as "Tinker" to many,
We give this bright
New shiny penny.

Omissions and Corrections

While reading the newspaper one morning, I was attracted by the headline, "Newspaper Reporter Breaks World Record." Then I read, "Richard 'Jake' Jacobson broke the world's fishing record yesterday when he caught a twelve-foot brook trout. Although he will not reveal the location of the brook in which he was fishing, it is believed to be in the vicinity of Millbury, Massachusetts, where 'Jake' formerly resided when he was a student at Millbury Memorial High School."

To Linda Carlson,
Our fair Swedish lass,
We give this Youth Glow
So her beauty may last.

Two New Stars in Old Glory

We, the members of the Senior Class, have witnessed during our final year here at Millbury Memorial High School, the greatest transformation in our country's boundaries in the past century. I am referring, of course, to the ratification by Congress of statehood applications by Alaska and Hawaii. Whether or not we realize it, this will affect each and every one of us in some way. It opens the door for those of us who wish to travel, it is a shift in political power that will have its effects on national politics and the 1960 elections, and it strengthens the political position of the western United States who have gained four new senators.

By voting five-to-one for statehood and by turning out to vote in larger numbers than ever before, the people of Alaska proved their eagerness to assume the responsibilities of self-government within the union. This action refuted the claim that the people of Alaska feared the increased tax burden that was predicted.

Now that Alaska has officially become a member of the family, she will become eligible to share in the rights and privileges inherent with this membership. Undoubtedly, her economy and military status will get a tremendous boost. No longer will she have to worry about a fluctuating economy based on so few industries as she has. If nothing else, she can heave a sigh of relief because there really is greater safety in numbers. Her economy becomes intermingled with ours. With the tariff barriers down, trade reciprocity will take place with states exchanging needed goods. A greater independence will take place. American businessmen will expand into this territory, and, of course, greater business activity will bring greater prosperity both to the people and to the State of Alaska.

In regard to Alaska's military status, she now has the full protection of the United States. No longer does Alaska have to fear the great Russian Bear, for she now is a member of the greatest and most powerful nation in the world. Yes, even though the United States is all that, Alaska is determined to give something of herself in making the United States more powerful and more inspiring than it is today.

The nearness of Alaska to Russia offers great military security to the United States. This security is applicable in offensive as well as defensive measures. Not only will it force Russia to have greater respect for us, but it will also give us a wider strategic area.

The citizens of Alaska proved their political responsibility by helping Hawaii follow them into statehood. The approval of Hawaii was, in my opinion, one of the wisest decisions our Washington representatives have ever made. Few American territories have been so well qualified for statehood as these distant islands. In fact, the economic position of Hawaii is stronger than many of our older states. The islands, since they were obtained in 1898, have actually paid more taxes than some of our wealthiest states, such as Texas, Oklahoma, and Iowa.

Hawaii is the first "island state." It is made up of eight main islands, and a string of atolls and reefs that extend 1,400 miles toward Asia. Like Alaska, its value from a military point of view is immeasurable.

Hawaii's people are well known for their hospitality and are also respected for their varied racial backgrounds. The largest distinctive racial group is the Japanese. Then there are native Hawaiians of mixed blood, as well as Filipinos and Chinese. There has never been any segregation in Hawaii's public schools or in public transportation. This working example of integration could well be an inspiration to the mainland states troubled with racial problems.

The labor position of Hawaii is exceptionally strong, but not to a point of dangerous labor-union domination. If labor-minded candidates are elected, it would add to labor's influence in Washington.

It is my opinion that the ratification of these two territories as states should be a boost to America's economy, politics, military power, and, most of all, the good reputation for brotherhood which the United States of America has sought to maintain since its origin. Therefore, we are proud to have this year of our high school graduation, 1959, coincide with the acceptance as states, of Alaska, once known scornfully as "Seward's Folly," and Hawaii, "the pearl of the Pacific."

America Awaits Our Debut

"All the world's a stage, And all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and entrances, And one man in his time plays many parts. . . ."

As you know, these are Shakespeare's immortal words from his play, AS YOU LIKE IT. They were true then in 1600, and still hold true today. The world remains a theater. We are the performers. The dress rehearsal is over. We have spent long hours preparing for our roles, and we are now ready to play our part in the drama of life.

America, our audience, waits. Her opened heart expresses her anticipation. Not only here at Millbury Memorial High School, but all over the United States, the Class of 1959 steps onto a stage of opportunity in a country that offers us a gigantic variety of roles to choose as we wish.

Only now, when we are being drawn away from our school, our adolescence, and a little from our families, can we truly appreciate our heritage and our home - America. We have previously been sheltered by these institutions, but today, despite our fear of presenting our soliloquy, we must step up, for America welcomes us!

Could we stand here tonight, confident and optimistic, if Russia were our audience? Would we consider ourselves equally as fortunate in that land of fear where we would either be forced to serve the Communist Party or remain a bit player? We are a free generation that must strive to protect the freedom of the generations coming after us. In this atomic age, we realize that the entrance of a World War III would result only in a tragedy, and we must guard against this.

"You can't be talking to me. You're far beyond my depth," you may say. "How can I prevent a war?"

You can contribute towards our common goal by maintaining our ideals of a peaceful world and working for them. We cannot merely LET things happen; we must MAKE things happen!

First, let us consider our right to vote. Our fiftieth state - Hawaii - has a larger percentage of voters at the polls than we do! These people are proud to have the privilege of voting as one of the United States of America! They consider themselves American above all, regardless of their ancestry, and are eager to participate in the American Drama, while we sit back, indifferent as to who become our leading actors. Ah. . . .but how we can criticize a poor showing.

Secondly, the phrase "charity begins at home" may be trite, but nevertheless, it is meaningful. Tolerance for our relatives and neighbors, and respect for our co-workers is the beginning of our desired way of life. How can there be UNIVERSAL HAPPINESS if happiness does not exist in our homes and at our jobs? That unselfish quality of lending a helping hand to someone in need, is again, a basis for world-wide charity.

Third, God enters into our utopia. Plato, an early Greek philosopher, believed that no democracy could thrive without faith in a Supernatural Being. I believe that he is correct, for without our Divine Creator and His commandments to direct our paths, our morals would be corrupt. There would be no urge towards equality, chastity, and humility. Thus, religion is necessary to realize our dream also.

Fourth, our freedom and economy began with our first realizations as a child, our home life, teachers, companions, our freedom to choose our favorite flavor ice cream, or even tie our own shoelaces. These may all seem trivial to you now, but they were important steps in developing our independent thinking. Above all, the love that we received should be passed on to our children despite economic problems in times of depression and inflation.

Yes, the success of the class in this play depends on how we perform all these roles.

Millbury Memorial High School has amply directed our lines and provided our stage directions. Now it is our individual ambition that will help us reach our goal - happiness in a free world!

The stage is set. Thank you everyone behind the scenes. We are ready, America; let the curtain rise!

How High the Cost of Prejudice?

"All men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness."

Ever since our country was a mere gleam in the eyes of such men as George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and John Adams, the term "equality" has crept into its legal documents and declarations. It has served as a crutch in times of strife and as a goal in times of war. It has attracted many brilliant and gifted people to our shores. Therefore, it is our duty to preserve this basic principle of our democracy.

Yet, there are many so-called "citizens" of the United States who through their prejudices and hatreds are corrupting this foundation of our nation.

How many here can truthfully and rationally say that they aren't prejudiced in some way? I don't think there is anyone, for it is humanly impossible to be completely unbiased in all our opinions and actions.

To be prejudiced in some ways is not evil or immoral. It is no grave offense against God and His laws to hold one thing in preference to another. After all, how many people won't eat garlic or onions simply because their odors are unpleasant - to say the least? Is not this a prejudice? Are they not passing judgment before holding a trial? There is no rational reason for their not eating these foods.

This type of prejudice, however, is no crime or shameful discrimination. But when a prejudice wounds the feelings of a fellow human being or undermines the security of a nation, it is time to put a stop to such atheistic and barbarous tactics. For example, a few weeks ago I was riding on a bus in which a Negro girl was also traveling. When another woman pulled the cord signaling that she wanted to get off, the driver stopped to let her alight. She marched right off the bus without paying her fare.

"Lady," the driver asked, " wouldn't you like to pay your fare?" She made no reply but continued walking indignantly with her nose in the air. The driver drove up the street after her and called again, "Lady, wouldn't you like to pay your fare?" This time she answered with an icy, "As long as colored people ride on this bus, I refuse to pay!"

This was the reply of an American. This was a citizen of the "land of equality", "the land of the free." When I heard her remark, my face colored with shame, not for myself, but for this woman who was too blind to realize what a horrible thing she had said.

The Bible says that "God created MAN in His own image and likeness." It does not say that He created white men, or Jews, or Irishmen, or Republicans, or Catholics, or Protestants. It states bluntly and plainly that He created MAN. How than can one say that he loves God when he disparages and defiles the one thing that God loves most? It cannot be done.

Nor can one who holds hate and prejudice in his heart call himself a Christian, for Christ has said, "Whatsoever you have done to the least of these, my brethren, you have done unto me."

Prejudice is not only un-Christian, it is also the force which gnaws away at the foundations of democracy and causes them to crumble into a useless mass of rubble.

In a true democracy, there is no place for prejudice. All races and creeds of people must labor together in a common unit striving for a common goal - equality and justice for every citizen, regardless of color or nationality. They must forget individual and unfounded grievances and treat each other as equals.

If we place a man's color or religion before his efficiency and ability, what kind of government can we expect to have? In a country where so much depends upon the representatives chosen by the people, personal grudges and prejudices should not interfere with our choice. Every candidate for an election or applicant for a position should be thoroughly and objectively investigated. After such examination, a worth-while choice may be made. Then, and only then, will the necessary improvements be made in our government and our cherished ideals of liberty and equality be preserved.

With the threat of communism so great in the world today, it is more essential than ever before to suppress prejudice. These petty partialities not only prolong the struggle between the Kremlin and the free world, but also provide excellent propaganda material for the communists. They pounce on these discriminations and distort them beyond recognition, thus turning those behind the Iron Curtain against our cause.

No one has the right to teach the equality of man and, then, turn around and use discrimination himself. Before our doctrines can have a lasting effect on the world, we must learn to practice what we preach and live up to our own standards.

Prejudices are learned, not inherited. Therefore, it is the duty of the parents and the teachers to discourage any unreasonable prejudices that might creep into a child's mind due to the thoughtlessness and unfairness of another. They must stress the beauty and Godliness of living and working side by side with those of a different race, nationality, or religion.

In this way, we will preserve forever the principles expressed in the pledge of allegiance to our flag, "One nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Freedom of Speech: A Right and a Responsibility

For many long centuries man has struggled to secure and maintain freedom of speech. The battle for freedom of public expression is not new. Four hundred years ago, Galileo was thrown into prison for declaring that the earth revolved around the sun, thus contradicting the popular belief that the sun revolved around the earth. Roger Bacon was so afraid to express himself publicly that he wrote all of his scientific observations in code. The men who wrote our Constitution recognized the importance of this freedom when they incorporated into this document their thoughts: "Congress shall make no law. . . .abridging the freedom of speech or of the press or of the right of people to assemble."

Because the right of public speech is essential to political activity and religious practice, the right of free speech is frequently associated with the freedom of assemblage and the freedom of worship. If we did not have freedom of speech, there could be no gatherings of people who say what they want. Political conventions and assemblage would be banned, or the speeches would be indoctrinated with the words of the authorities. You could not meet your neighbor on the street and converse about public affairs. You could not even pray the way you want to. You could not go anywhere and criticize the government or any other such body without fear of being punished severely. The right of free speech is also associated with the right of teachers to express their opinions according to their beliefs without fear of being dismissed or rebuked in some other way.

Of course, unrestricted freedom of expression leads to the infringement of the rights of others. I'm sure you've heard this proverb many times, "With every right or privilege there is a duty." There is also the classic example of the obligation you have in a crowded building not to shout, "Fire!" Such an action endangers the lives of others and is a necessary restriction upon your right of free speech. Oliver Wendell Holmes maintained that in a case where the right of free speech creates a clear and concise danger, you do not have that right. You have the freedom of speech only if you do not utter libel, slander, obscenity, sedition, or anything which jeopardizes the rights of others.

As an example of rights and responsibilities in action, let us look at our right to drive an automobile. When you have your driver's license, you should regard this privilege with respect, for with it you have the power to travel anywhere at anytime. It is very hard to obtain this privilege and ever so easy to lose it. You spend months practising and preparing for the time when you will be ready to go to the Registry of Motor Vehicles and take the test for your license. After you have the license, it takes only a second, one moment of carelessness, one moment of overconfidence or haughtiness to lose this privilege. In the process you might also lose your life. When you drive along the highway at ninety miles an hour you are endangering the lives of others, a right which you do not possess. You must have respect for the law, the existing road conditions, and, most important, the welfare of the whole community. So it is with freedom of speech. You have the freedom of speech but you must respect the limits of this freedom, and think not only of yourself but of others.

When you slander someone's name, you not only hurt him but you also hurt yourself. No one wants to be friendly with a person who will talk about him while his back is turned. No one wants to be a good friend of the "town gossip"; consequently the town gossip has few friends. Yes, you have the freedom of speech, but you also have the obligation to speak only the truth.

In some parts of the world, freedom of speech is suppressed. Behind the Iron Curtain you cannot speak openly without fearing suppression by the Secret Service. In other countries free speech was abolished after World War I by the totalitarian governments. The so-called Free World supports the program of Radio Free Europe, thus spreading the light of truth to these oppressed people. Even in America, the Land of the Free, you do not always feel completely free to voice your opinions. Sometimes students, like us, refrain from voicing our real opinions in class because we are afraid that we will receive low marks or that our classmates will laugh at us. Sometimes teachers are afraid of being suspended; thus they do not speak THEIR real opinions. Sometimes men and women in the business world do not offer criticism because they fear a loss of social respectability or loss of their position. So you see that freedom of speech is always qualified by an obligation. You must recognize the limits, respect them, and act accordingly.

What I've said here can be best exemplified by the model set in time of war. Freedom of speech is necessarily abridged to some extent in time of war for the general safety of the public. You can imagine the chaos this country would be in if the secrets of war were divulged to the enemy. If any military secrets were told to the enemy, the lives of all the people would be in jeopardy because the enemy would not hesitate to attack us. Actually you do not have the right to divulge any such secrets.

So take a moment out of your busy schedule and consider the great fortune we have in our freedom of speech. If you will sit down and meditate, I'm sure you will arrive at much the same conclusion that I have: Freedom of speech is a precious right, but we must never forget the responsibilities involved with this right.
